QUANTITATIVE STRATEGY DESK: MONDAY POST-MARKET DRIFT

> Global liquidity contraction triggers severe EM selloff; Gold spikes 2.64% while Indian mega-caps face systemic algorithmic liquidation amid surging USD/INR exchange friction.

QUANTITATIVE STRATEGY DESK: MONDAY POST-MARKET DRIFT

Extreme Fear parameters (Index: 9/100) command active market execution, dictating aggressive institutional consolidation across emerging market equities. Tactical gamma squeeze dynamics in dollar-denominated safe havens forced the USD/INR peg to 94.76 (+0.54%). This FX dislocation triggered algorithmic FPI liquidation, systematically dismantling Indian mega-caps and overwhelming any passive DII inflow. Reliance Industries absorbed a 4.60% terminal drop, while State Bank of India (-3.88%) and Adani Enterprises (-3.37%) exhibited rapid sectoral rotation out of high-beta industrials and financials.

Global fear mapping perfectly correlates with current FPI capital flight, accelerating portfolio de-risking ahead of Fed Chair Powell's impending address, CAD GDP m/m, and JOLTS job openings. Despite a resilient 7.2% institutional India GDP estimate, anticipated regulatory friction and macro-level yield dislocations currently negate domestic fundamental buffers. Unleveraged Spot Gold (4493.69, +2.64%) immediately absorbed the global flight-to-safety protocol.
